

LINDENWOOD'S ART & DESIGN, CINEMA ARTS, AND SOCIAL WORK PROGRAMS PRESENT

RIPPLE EFFECTS

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 25TH, 2025

THE BOYLE FAMILY GALLERY, J. SCHEIDEGGER CENTER FOR THE ARTS

3:00 PM

Presentation of artwork

4:00 PM

Catching Bullets film screening

5:30 PM

Discussion and presentation by social workers from the Life Outside of Violence program

This interactive exhibit extends beyond the silos of zip codes, amplifying narratives that honor those we have lost, those who survive, and those who hope to end the epidemic of gun violence.

FEATURING:

CHRISTINE ILEWSKI is the founder and executive director of Faces not Forgotten, which gives comfort to the families of young gun violence victims, providing them with hand-painted portraits of their loved ones.

LYDIA WOOD is a nurse and watercolor portrait artist whose Shot at Survival series illustrates what it takes to survive trauma in St. Louis.

BEN SCHOLLE is a Lindenwood professor and documentary filmmaker whose film, Catching Bullets, chronicles violence prevention efforts. His students also produced short films to accompany some of the artwork on display.
